"ALICE OF ANGEL COURT"
BY
WALTER DODGSON, J.P.,
Divisional Officer, Sheffield Iron and Steel Trades Confederation.

The "Sheffield Mail" has again been successful in securing the exclusive rights of a powerful new short serial by a well-known Sheffield Labour leader with intimate knowledge of the lives of working folk. "Alice of Angel Court" is a tale of Sheffield, its mean streets, its struggles, hardships, its heroines and its gangmen.

Mr. WALTER DODGSON, J.P.

This new serial deals with the workers, and should be read by all. "Alice" is a particularly sweet character, and you will enjoy reading all about her in this fine new serial.

Starts To-night in The Sheffield Mail

A FESTIVAL DAY FOR RAMBLERS.

BIG TRAMP OVER THE MOORS.

HAPPY ENDING TO A DAY OF KEEN ENJOYMENT.

A WANDERER on the Derbyshire moors on Saturday would not have been very lonely. At every bend in the winding moorland path, and at each guide-post that marks the twisting lanes, he would have been met with cheery greetings for the New Year.

It was the rambler's day, and ramblers were everywhere. Some were veterans at the game, others were young and vigorous, and quite a number were girls, bobbed and shingled, who strode alongside their male companions quite unabashed in heavy boots and breeches.

The majority of the youths were hatless and bare-necked, although one braved hill and dale in Oxford bags and a beret. But the moors mean freedom to the rambler, and all were true ramblers.

Service o Kinder Scout.

Their faces shone with a healthy glow, and their eyes were bright after tramping since morning. They were drawn from parts of the surrounding district—Sheffield, Manchester, Rotherham, Barnsley, Chapel-en-le-Frith and Glossop.

During the day a party went over Kinder Scout, where a memorial service was held to brother ramblers Newton, Martin and Evans, who had died whilst rambling over the moorland.

As night drew on, in twos and threes the ramblers tramped into Castleton, where, as in previous years, they dined in ease and comfort under the eye of Mam Tor, whose mighty grandeur dominates the rugged range of peaks which overshadow Castleton

A Happy Party.

The biggest gathering was held at the Peak Hotel, where the Sheffield Clarion Ramblers made a jolly party. They set off from home early in the morning, and tramped across the fields to Bradmores, Stanage Pole, Gatehouse Farm, Salter Gate to Bamford, Shatton and Hope.

After dinner, improvised ditties, with fitting moorland atmosphere, together with reminiscences and dancing, whiled away a happy evening.

After the toast of "Absent Ones," Mr. W. H. Whitney gave the toast of "The Club," which, he said, started in a very small way 27 years ago, and was now the largest in the world. "We claim to have established rambling as a cult in Sheffield since we were formed," he said.

Girl Ramblers.

Mr. G. H. B. Ward, the founder of the club, who responded, said rambling stood for the pride of a manly heart, a swinging stride, and a personality that could penetrate, and was not afraid. It was a sport, perhaps the most beneficial and the most lasting of all.

"Twenty years ago, I rallied myself the pioneer of women's rights," he declared. "I appealed for the men to bring out their womenfolk, and often I almost despaired of success.

"Before the war distinct strides were made, but to-day we can't keep the girls away. Bobbed, shingled and Eton-cropped, they are as keen ramblers as any boy."

A guest at the dinner was Mrs. Evans, mother of Evans, the rambler who lost his life when tramping over Kinder Scout, two years ago.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Something entirely unprecedented in the way of agricultural triumphs was recorded at the 1926 International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago, when the championships for both wheat and oats were awarded an individual agriculturist.

The coveting of the dual trophy is a triumph for Canada, for the province of Alberta, for the great Peace River country, and in particular, for the successful young farmer, Herman Trelle, of Wembley, Alberta.

Trelle, the most successful grain farmer of the North American continent in the 1926 season, was born in Idaho 31 years ago, and went to Alberta with his parents in 1900.

DUTCH DANGER.—Wearing her peasant costume, a dancer from Zaandam (Holland) is arriving to participate in the All-England Folk Dancing Festival at the Royal Albert Hall.

POPULAR CONCERT.

NOTED BARITONE'S VISIT TO SHEFFIELD.

The visit of Mr. Thorpe Bates to Sheffield, on Saturday, when he sang at the Victoria Hall Popular Concert, did not attract as large an audience as the eminent baritone merited. Much enthusiasm, however, was displayed.

Mr. Thorpe Bates sang a nicely diversified repertoire, beginning with Purcell's "Ye twice ten hundred deities," and, as a final encore, concluding with the ever popular "Floral Dance." Mr. Bates has a beautiful voice, responsive to every shade of emotion, and his rendering of "Passing By" deserves the term exquisite.

Another song was "The Toy Band," in which Newbolt commemorates the famous incident in the Mons retreat, made familiar recently by the film. "The Four Jolly Sailormen" was also a very successful item.

Miss Elsa Frood, a light contralto, was in good voice, and one hopes that Mr. Stephenson will bring her to the Victoria Hall again soon. Her best song was "June," to Roger Quilter's setting, and the encore was well deserved.

Mr. Alan Morten delighted everybody with his 'cello solos, especially the "Danse Orientale." Mr. Morten has a perfect command of his instrument, his technique is of high quality, and he plays with imagination and sympathy.

NEW YEAR CONCERT.

A very fine New Year's Day concert was given in the Attercliffe Wesleyan Hall, Sheffield, on Saturday. The programme was arranged by Miss Cissie Fairest.

The large audience appreciated the excellent entertainment contributed to by Miss Eleanor Knight, who gave some charming violin solos; Mr. George Lawton, Miss Nellie Closs, and Mrs. G. E. Britton.

Miss Cissie Fairest sang humorous songs at the piano; and Mr. Horace Fulford was accompanist.

THE "MESSIAH".

Yesterday afternoon an augmented choir, under the direction of Mr. F. Ramsden, gave very creditable renderings of selections from the "Messiah," in the Thurlstone Wesleyan Church.

The principals were: Soprano, Mrs. H. Senior; contralto, Miss D. Y. Wilkinson; tenor, Mr. H. Senior; bass, Mr. W. Clegg; principal violin, Mr. G. Mitchell, Sheffield; organist, Miss G. Kaye, Thurlstone. The proceeds were in aid of the Old Folks' and Widows' Treat.

CONSCIENCE MONEY. Gentleman sends his thanks for Rowntree's York Chocolates, which he thinks are worth so much more than he paid.

A BOY UNDER EACH ARM.

HEROIC RESCUES FROM DROWNING.

CAPSIZED RAFT.

The Royal Humane Society's certificate for life saving was, at a social gathering at Halfway, on Saturday, presented to Mr. Wilfred Cullabine, a miner, of Halfway, for rescuing two little boys who were in imminent danger of drowning. Mr. Cullabine also received a gold medal from the Sheffield district of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows, of which he is a member.

The gallant act for which Mr. Cullabine was awarded the coveted certificate occurred last June. Two little boys, Samuel Bedford, aged 11, and Harold Hewitt, aged 9, both of Halfway, embarked on an old raft on a sheet of water four acres in extent and very deep in places, near Holbrook Colliery.

Fully Dressed.

When near the centre the raft capsized, tipping the boys into the water. The attention of Mr. Cullabine, who happened to be passing in company with his wife, was called to the accident, and he at once plunged in, fully dressed, and swam to the rescue of the boys.

Gripping one under each arm, he struggled back to the bank and brought both to safety. One of the boys was unconscious, and artificial respiration had to be resorted to to bring him round.

But for Mr. Cullabine's courageous and timely intervention, both boys would almost certainly have lost their lives. About six years ago Mr. Cullabine was instrumental in saving the lives of two other boys, who had fallen into the sewer at Kilhamarsh and were rapidly sinking in the slime and mud.

Just a Duty.

The presentations were made by Alderman E. Peat, J.P., who was supported by Mr. W. Sewell, J.P., the Rev. W. R. Hewson, Rector of Eckington, Mr. H. C. Grayson, Sheffield District Grand Master of the Oddfellows, and Mr. J. W. Siddall, Sheffield district secretary and Past Grand Master of the Oddfellows.

Acknowledging the gifts, Mr. Cullabine said that when he saw the boys in the water it was only his duty as an Englishman to try to save them.

GOODWILL THE KEY.

SHEFFIELD M.P. ON PAST YEAR'S LESSONS.

Speaking at the P.S.A. gathering at Oak street, Sheffield, yesterday, Mr. R. Storry Deans, M.P. for the Park Division, suggested that we should use the unfortunate experiences of the past year as things to guide us in the new.

Although they might get good from evil, evil never came out of good.

The widespread misery and poverty of 1926 was the result of a lack of goodwill between men and classes. Far behind any economic, industrial or political cause lay this absence of brotherly feeling which led to the disturbances of 1926.

He felt, however, that as a result of the lessons of the past year, there was a growing spirit of goodwill and mutual trust among men. If such could operate, instead of prejudice, 1927 would be a prosperous year.

That crippling lumbago!

Help the kidneys to prevent it.

WORK GOES HARD when the kidneys slow down, for backache, rheumatic twinges and bladder troubles begin. Neglect at this stage is most serious; it leads to lumbago, sciatica and other forms of rheumatism. Time is precious. Use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills; this medicine strengthens weak kidneys, and assists them to keep the blood pure. In this way Doan's Pills prevent and relieve rheumatic pains, as well as gravel, dropsy, cystitis and stone formation.

Sheffield Resident's Proof:

On 10th October, 1914, Mr. H. Charlesworth, 157, Latching road, Sheffield, said: "Through catching repeated colds, I contracted a severe attack of lumbago. The pain was cruel; when I stooped I could hardly get up straight again, and I was terribly stiff and sore. I suffered in this way for weeks.

"But Doan's Backache Kidney Pills relieved me from the first. After I had given them a fair trial, the lumbago was completely cured."

On 21st January, 1926, Mr. Charlesworth said: "I still hold my good opinion of Doan's Pills. They are a wonderful remedy for kidney complaint."

(Signed) H. Charlesworth."
